Arizona MOAA Council and Chapters Commit to Partnership Supporting Arizona Veterans

Arizona MOAA Council and All Chapters Earn 'Be Connected Partner' Designation

Phoenix, Ariz. (Feb. 09, 2021) – The Arizona Coalition for Military Families, a nationally recognized Arizona-based nonprofit providing resources, support, and advocacy for Arizona's servicemembers, veterans, and their families, is proud to announce a partnership with the Arizona Council of Chapters and its nine chapters of the Military Officers Association of America (MOAA).

The partnership establishes an avenue for both organizations to expand their services and support of Arizona's servicemembers, veterans, and their families. One example of this support is the Grants + program. MOAA national and the Arizona chapters offer grants to help servicemembers, veterans, and families facing hardship. Through this new partnership, MOAA grant recipients will also be referred to the Coalition's Be Connected program to provide support, services, and solutions to address the underlying issues causing hardship.

Col. Peter Kloeber, USAF (Ret), president of the MOAA Arizona Council of Chapters, also serves on the national MOAA board of directors. He says he's delighted to provide this new avenue of support to veterans and families in Arizona.

"I've talked up the benefits of the Be Connected program every chance I could across Arizona to rally our chapters to join this effort because Be Connected makes helping people so easy," says Kloeber. "You share the number or make the call, and they take it from there. It's so simple and effective."

"We are so proud to partner with MOAA's Arizona Council of Chapters and its nine chapters to ensure Arizona's bravest have the support they need from the day they take their oath on through their retirement," says Thomas Winkel, founder and director of the Arizona Coalition for Military Families. "Now there is a seamless bridge of support that veterans and families can access between MOAA's Arizona affiliates and our Be Connected program."

Kloeber championed the partnership chapter by chapter for more than 12 months because he has seen firsthand the value of providing access to this no-cost program to the Arizona MOAA membership. "This new statewide partnership is another way to extend help to our veterans and families for just about anything including employment, financial support, mental health services, medical needs, benefits, and housing."

The Arizona Coalition for Military Families offers statewide resources and services — at no cost — to Arizona's servicemembers, veterans, and families through the ongoing support from the Arizona Department of Veterans' Services, the Governor's Office of Youth, Faith and Family, and the VA.

"If you want to help a veteran or family and you don't know where to turn, call Be Connected," says Kloeber.
