

ARIZONA ROADMAP TO VETERAN EMPLOYMENT

JOB SEEKER - JOB SEARCH CHECKLIST

The Arizona Roadmap to Veteran Employment is a statewide plan that engages public and private sector organizations with a goal of connecting service members, veterans and their family members to employment opportunities, training & resources.

This checklist is a tool for service members, veterans and their family members to use when looking for employment. Completing this checklist can help you clarify where you are now and possible next steps in your job search. If you are working with an employment service provider or program, you can also show this to the person you are working with to give them a better idea of what programs or resources might be a good fit.

SECTION THREE: PREPARATION

If you have served in the military (current or past), have you done a complete translation of your military experience and skills to the civilian equivalents? <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Partial Have you identified your military training and experience that would benefit a civilian employer? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Any leadership schools or training <input type="checkbox"/> Leadership positions held (team leader, squad leader, platoon sergeant/leader etc...) <input type="checkbox"/> Extra duty positions (career counselor, combat lifesaver, unit prevention leader etc...) <input type="checkbox"/> Military on-the-job training certificates 	Be proactive in translating your military experience, skills and training, whether you are looking for a similar position in the civilian workplace or whether you want to make a career path change. There are many resources available to assist you with this process. The better you understand how your military experience relates, the better you will be able to share that with a potential employer.
Do you have a resume? <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Unsure If yes, which of the following have you done? Check all that apply <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> My resume is a draft (not ready for use). <input type="checkbox"/> I have had one or more other people review the content. <input type="checkbox"/> I have had one or more other people proofread for errors and typos. <input type="checkbox"/> I know how to customize my resume for a specific job, employer and/or industry. <input type="checkbox"/> I have used my resume to get a job in the past. 	Your resume is a critical part of your job search. Put the necessary time in to making sure it best represents what you bring to the table as a potential employee. Your resume should only be considered complete once you have had other people review and proofread it. One typo in your resume may make the difference between becoming a candidate or not! And tailoring your resume for a specific position can help you stand out.
Which of the following have your planned for or thought about relating to job interviews? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> What you will wear (clothing, shoes, accessories, grooming). <input type="checkbox"/> What you will bring. <input type="checkbox"/> What you will say and do (proper handshakes, responses to potential questions, etc.). <input type="checkbox"/> How you will get there. <input type="checkbox"/> Any other details (time off work if currently employed, childcare, etc.). 	Make sure you also focus on preparing to interview. This is best done before you even receive a call to schedule an interview. Consider all the elements listed as you prepare.

We hope this job search checklist has helped you identify where you're at, plan for what's next and prepare for your job search. Please email us with any feedback about the checklist.
